JAPAN ACCEPTS POTSDAM SURRENDER TERMS

WASHINGTON—A radio surrender offer by atom-blasted and bleeding Japan remained unofficial for hours after its broadcast, and the White House indicated that meanwhile the war would go on. At 10:33 a.m., nearly three hours after the broadcast, President Truman had not received the official surender offer which the Japanese radio said was being transmitted to the allies through the Swiss and Swedish governments. The radio version of the offer—an acceptance of the July 26 Potsdam ultimatum—posed just one condition. That Emperor Hirohito would retain his "prerogatives as a sovereign ruler." This was not expected to block the conclusion of the war. White House secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that until the offer was received officially there would be no cessation—so far as he knew—of land, sea, and air action against the Japanese empire. The Japanese broadcast brought members of the president's "war cabinet" to the White House for a 30-minute meeting early in the morning. Although neither the Swiss nor the Swedish representatives here had received any inkling by that time that a surrender offer might be on the way, the president called his key cabinet members to his side "in the interest of possible developments," Ross said. Unofficial opinion in Wahington was that even if the Japanese offer were authentic, it would require some time to complete arrangements for signing a formal surrender document stopping the war. It was believed that Japan would be required to sign a surrender presented to her by the allies—without negotiation or discussion. This procedure was followed with the Germans at Reims three months ago Some curiosity existed here about the abrupt interruption of the Tokyo broadcast before completing the text of its statement. This might have been due purely to technical reasons, but might also indicate internal difficulties in Japan. The possibility could not be entirely discounted that some insurgent group in Japan might have seized control of Tokyo Radio long enough to start transmission of the surrender offer.

Believe Atom Bomb Erased Large Section of Nagasaki

GUAM—The second atomic bomb dropped on Japan obliterated Nagasaki in an inferno of smoke and flame that swirled more than 10 miles into the stratosphere and could be seen for 250 miles, an Okinawa dispatch said today.

Okinawa-based pilots attacking other objectives on Kyushu yesterday said the clouds of smoke from Nagasaki spread rapidly until they obscured bombing targets 60 miles from the port.

Fliers told United Press war correspondent Russel Annabel at Okinawa that the atomic bomb explosion was "too tremendous to believe." One said the blinding glare of the blast was so great that when it faded he thought for a moment the sun was setting.

THE AIRMEN'S STORIES BOLSTERED A growing belief that the entire urban or built-up area of Nagasaki, major naval base, industrial center and Japan's 11th city, was destroyed by the atomic bomb. The built-up area totalled only four square miles. Four and one-tenth square miles of Hiroshima were levelled Monday when the first atomic bomb was dropped on Japan.

Accurate assessment of the destruction at Nagasaki awaited reconnaissance photographs. Reconnaissance planes which flew over the city three hours after the attack said smoke rising to 20,000 feet still covered the center of the city.

Photographs taken at the time showed scattered fires outside the smoke area, Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the strategic air forces, said.

GUAM—More than 1,200 carrier planes from the third fleet shifted their attack to the Tokyo area today, the Japanese reported, after destroying or damaging 257 enemy aircraft in northern Honshu yesterday.

Seventy Superfortresses also hit the Tokyo area today, dropping one-ton demolition bombs on the sprawling Tokyo arsenal area shortly before noon for the second time in 48 hours.

Ninety other B-29s had raided the Nippon oil refinery at Amagasaki near Osaka before down.

A PACIFIC FLEET COMMUNIque said planes of the third fleet attacked northern Honshu this morning for the second straight day in an attempt to hamstring enemy efforts to move reinforcements to Korea and Manchuria to fight the invading Red armies.

The carrier aircraft shifted their assault to the Tokyo-Yokohama area during the morning, Tokyo said, and in the afternoon bombed and strafed airfields and military installations in the Chiba district just east of Tokyo for an hour and a half.

All the Superfortresses returned from the B-29's two strikes.

Japanese fighter opposition was light but anti-aircraft fire was moderate to intense.

THE 'BOMBERS WERE escorted by 60 Iwo-based Mustangs and Thunderbolts, which found few opponents.

Fleet Admiral Nimitz announced in a communique that preliminary reports from American and British carrier forces which attacked northern Honshu on Thursday showed that considerable damage was inflicted.

The American planet destroyed 124 Japanese planes on the ground damaged 57 others, and sank a number of small ships during the early hours of Thursday.

During the day 11 other enemy planes were destroyed when they attempted to attack warships of the third fleet.

40 Servicemen Are Killed in Train Wreck

MICHIGAN, N. D.—Rescue crews with acetylene torches cut through the tangled and twisted steel wreckage of a railroad coach today in an effort to remove the bodies of an estimated 40 servicemen killed in the crash of two sections of the Empire Builder crack passenger train.

The bodies were entombed in the buckled steel plates of an observation car and the locomotive of the train's second section which smashed into the rear, telescoped and then exploded.

TEN PERSONS WERE known to have been injured seriously. Scores of others were bruised, cut and shaken. Some were burned.

The accident occurred about 8:30 o'clock last night when the first section of the train stopped about a half mile from the small Michigan depot because of a "hot box" on the locomotive.

Before flares could be put out to warn the second section, it plowed into the rear coach, a combination Pullman-observation car. It split the coach down the middle.

THE ENGINE'S BOILER exploded on impact and escaping steam scalded those already dying. The Pullman ahead of the observation car was derailed.

Michigan, a small town of 800, had no facilities for first aid. Ambulances and help came from as far as Grand Forks, 34 miles distant, Devils lake, Lakota and other cities.

Military officials took charge and said no names of the dead would be announced until the next of kin had been notified.

The two sections of the train, loaded to capacity with from 450 to 500 passengers in each, mostly servicemen, left Chicago at 12:15 a.m. Wednesday, bound for the Pacific coast.

The Church of God will present Ralph White, harmonica artist, of Detroit, Sunday evening at 7:30 in a program of religious songs and slide films on the Life of Christ. Everyone welcome. (1B)

Surrender Now Or Be Destroyed, Truman Warns Japs

WASHINGTON—President Truman left bruised and battered Japan with the grim promise today of more atomic bombs and more military surprises unless she surrenders immediately.

The Japanese have felt only part of the crushing fate that is in store for them if they choose to fight on, the chief executive declared last night in an historic radio report to fellow Americans on the Potsdam conference.

"The Japs will soon learn some of the other military secrets agreed upon at Berlin," he said, "... they will not like them."

Mr. Truman warned the atomic bomb would continue to be turned on the enemy until the minute of surrender, and he warned Japanese civilians to vacate war industrial centers and "save themselves destruction."

HE SAID JAPAN'S PART deeds, including her execution of American prisoners, fully justified the decision to use the atomic bomb "against those who have shamelessly set all pretense of obeying international law of warfare."

Late Bulletins

MANILA—Far eastern air force planes entered their sixth day of continuous assault against Japanese supply lines in Asiatic waters today, after destroying or damaging more than 60 enemy ships during the past 24 hours. Gen. MacArthur's communique said the attacks ranged from Korea to Malaya and the Netherlands East Indies.

CHUNGKING—More than 100,000 Japanese troops have withdrawn from the Tung Ting lake area of northern Hunan province, a Chinese military spokesman said today. Observers speculated that the withdrawal may have been an attempt to anticipate and prepare defenses against the Russian attack into Manchuria.

The Chinese high command announced Chinese forces on the Kwangsi front, driving north toward the Hunan province border, have captured Kwanyang, 50 miles northeast of Kweilin.

OKINAWA—American troops went wild on this island they conquered less than two months ago today when they heard radio reports that Tokyo had said Japan would accept the Potsdam surrender ultimatum.

Merchants Prepare For Observance of V-J Day

Plans for observance of V-J Day have been set by the retail merchants committee, Chamber of Commerce, and notices given to all retailers.

Following is the program:

If the announcement comes before 12 noon of any day, stores will close at once for the balance of the day only. They will reopen next day as usual.

If the news come after 12 noon of any days, stores will close for the balance of that day and all of the next day as well.

Sundays and holidays, close the same as any other day.

In order to avoid any possible damage to show windows, display the American flag in the windows.

A sign should be placed on the doors reading "CLOSED WILL REOPEN ——— MORNING." The day of reopening may be inserted when the news comes.

Arrangements are being made by the Chamber of Commerce to have the news broadcast by citizens same as was done at V-E Day. Every precaution will be taken to be sure the report is official before any announcement is made.

Early End of Gas Rationing Seen

WASHINGTON — Government and industry experts said today that gasoline rationing may end almost immediately — possible within 48 hours—after Japan hoists the white flag.

Once full-scale war operations end, it was said, the flow of military gasoline, fuel oil and other petroleum products to the Pacific will dwindle to a comparative trickle and the long civilian drought will be over.

Fuel oil rationing also will be relaxed soon after the war, but there were no predictions as to a date on which it will be lifted altogether.

DECLARATION CHEERS GERMANS

BERLIN — It doesn't make sense, but you would almost think today that Germany, instead of Russia, had joined the western allies in the war against Japan.

Although most Germans still fear the Russians, it's curious to see and hear the Berlin crowds almost cheering the Soviet war declaration.

The Germans have made no secret of the fact that they loathe the Japanese. They are always apologetic over the fact that Japan was an axis partner. In fact, they apologize more for their alliance with Japan than for their shameful treatment of the Poles, or any other crimes on the long list of Nazi atrocities. "The only thing left now to do for Germany to declare war on Japan," one German said heavily.

TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN TO BE LAUNCHED

A campaign against tuberculosis will be launched in Alpena Aug. 14 to continue through the ensuing week sponsored by the 4-County Health Unit No. 4, Dr. H. G. Slade, director, announces.

The x-ray examinations will be sponsored by the Health Unit with the cooperation of the Michigan Department of Health. The x-rays will be given free to all who desire. Plants will be visited and employes given x-rays as well as food handlers, dairy workers, restaurant workers, city and hospital employees. The x-ray machine will be taken to these centers and employes examined on location until Aug. 21.

On Aug. 21, x-rays will be given the general public at City Hall.

The purpose is to combat the rising rate of tuberculosis and the public is urged to take advantage of the campaign in Alpena. The x-rays cost nothing and their disclosure, may easily enable any person showing symptoms of tuberculosis an opportunity to overcome the disease while it is in a simple stage.

This work is now being carried on in all parts of Michigan.

Tokyo Radio Asks Retention Of Emperor Hirohito as Ruler

SAN FRANCISCO—The Tokyo radio said early today that Japan, in the name of Emperor Hirohito, was ready to accept the terms of the allied Potsdam surrender declaration. The broadcast, in Morse telegraphic code, halted mysteriously without completing what purportedly was an official announcement. Two hours later Tokyo still had not returned to the air.

The Potsdam declaration, issued by the U. S., China, and Great Britain, on July 26, and later subscribed to by Russia, provided the Japanese an opportunity to end the war and ultimately regain sovereignty over their four main homeland islands.

The broadcast was an official Domei-Morse code transmission over the Tokyo radio and was recorded by the United Press listening post San Francisco.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT SAID THAT JAPAN would accept the Potsdam declaration, issued in Berlin on July 26 under the names of President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and later subscribed to by Russia, provided that "the said declaration does not compromise any demand which prejudices the prerogatives of his majesty (Emperor Hirohito as a sovereign ruler."

That obviously meant that the emperor hoped to remain on his throne and not be treated as a war criminal.

The broadcast was heard by the United Press listening post in San Francisco. Veteran monitors could not explain Tokyo's failure to finish broadcasting the text of the statement which ended with the phrase "the Japanese government hopes sincerely that this . . ."

EVER SINCE RUSSIA'S DECLARATION of war at one minute after midnight Thursday (Japanese time) Tokyo had been broadcasting intermittently that an "important announcement" was expected.

At 4:27 a.m. PWT, shortly after it had said Japan had lodged a formal protest through Switzerland requesting the Americans discontinue use of the "inhuman" atomic bomb, Tokyo began broadcasting its surrender statement.

THE POTSDAM DECLARAtion had warned Japan that destruction worse than that heaped upon Germany would come swiftly if she refused to capitulate immediately. Twelve days later the atomic bomb, packing the "explosive power of 20,000 tons of TNT, was unleashed against the city of Hiroshima. Yesterday a second bomb was dropped, this time on Nagasaki.

Hundreds of B-29 Superfortresses were raking the enemy homeland; Adm. William F. Halsey's British and American 3rd Wis park beginning at 3 o'clock, fleet was battering northern Honshu; the Russians were driving into Manchuria, Korea and the Japanese-held portion of Sakhalin island.

THE DECISION TO UNLEASH the atomic bomb—the most fearful weapon of history—was decided upon after the Japanese rejected the Potsdam declaration.

Only last night President Truman had warned the Japanese the Hiroshima attack was "only a

Soviet Forces Rolling Into Jap Territory

LONDON—Red armies have invaded Korea, the Japanese half of Sakhalin island and two more sections of Manchuria, Japan reported today a few hours before the Tokyo radio reported she had decided to surrender unconditionally to the allies.

A Moscow communique placed one of perhaps six Russian columns thrusting into Manchuria 50 miles or more inside the western border.

JAPANESE FORCES IN Manchuria and Korea counter-attacked the invaders, a Japanese communique said, and heavy fighting was under way between Soviet veterans of the European war and the enemy's crack Kwantung army.

The first far eastern front dispatches to be published in Moscow told only of the shattering of the enemy's defenses in northwest Manchuria, though one night's communique told of at least three other penetrations of the frontier.

MASSED SOVIET ARTILLERY pulverized the fortified Japanese line in the northeast, one dispatch said, and Soviet cavalry, tanks and infantry poured through in pursuit of enemy forces retreating across the hot, waterless steppes. The Japanese were unable to hold a single border town.

"By the end of the first day of war with Japan," one dispatch said, "we had penetrated considerably into Manchurian territory."

The Japanese report of four new Soviet invasions placed Red armies on the march across all frontiers common with Japan on Japanese-occupied territory.

Quadruple Amputee Patient to Receive More Than $50,000

BATTLE CREEK—Although M-Sgt. Fredric Hensel, the quadruple amputee patient at Percy Jones General hospital, is expected to receive more than $50,000 Sunday when he and his pretty, dark-haired wife, Jewell, observe their third wedding anniversary, the federal government will not touch one cent for taxes.

Federal tax collections agents pointed out that the money collected by newspapers in Detroit, Chicago and other communities, does not fall under the gift or income tax provisions. The gift or tax applies in graduated amounts to a sum received from a single donor in excess of $30,000 plus $3,000. The Hensel money is all being received in small amounts from hundreds of contributors.

PLAN TO STORE ARMS

PITTSBURGH — An order for 400,000 pounds of aluminum for the manufacture of ceta to store guns and ammunition when the war with Japan ends has been placed by the army with the Aluminum co of America. The revolutionary idea, still in the experimental stage, would permit the United States to return enemy fire within an hour should another war start 20 or 80 years from now. ALCOA is one of three concerns working on the idea of "packaging" war materials for future use.

Surrender Now Or Be Destroyed, Truman Warns Japs

The President, at the same time said he was fully aware that the horrible potentialities of the new weapon posed a threat to all mankind if it gets in the wrong hands.

Therefore, he said, the United States, Canada and Britain, who hold the secret, will keep it from the world—apparently even from the Russians—"until means have been found to control the bomb so as to protect ourselves and the rest of the world from the danger of total destruction."

TURNING TO THE POTSDAM conference, Mr. Truman revealed Soviet Russia agreed to fight the Japanese before being informed of the atomic bomb. He emphasized the conference resulted in no secret agreements "apart from current military operations."

The President said American proposals and objectives dominating the parley, chief among them the victory over Japan.

Mr. Truman unveiled for the first time a revolutionary American proposal made at Potsdam—a plan for international control over the inland waterways of Europe, including the highly strategic Dardenelles and the Rhine and Danube rivers.

Japan Formally Protests Against Use of Atom Bomb

SAN FRANCISCO—The Japanese government has lodged a formal protest with the United States through Switzerland requesting that the Americans "immediately discontinue the use of such inhuman weapons as the atomic bomb," Radio Tokyo said today.

Tokyo in a broadcast recorded by United Press quoted the protest as saying:

"Indiscriminate use by the United States of such atomic weapons as the atomic bomb constituted a new crime against the whole of humanity and civilization.

"Therefore the Japanese government in the name of the Japanese people and also in the name of humanity and civilization condemns the United States government, simultaneously requesting it to immediately discontinue the use of such inhuman weapons."

Methods of Saving Sugar In Canning

BY DOROTHY SCOTT
Home Economics Agent

Here's a last word on sugar before the canning season surrounds you

Canning authorities at Michigan State college have put all their sugar-savings ideas into one basket to help you. To can all that you can this summer, try these suggested methods. You may be sold on the old way, but this seems to be the year to get out of our canning rut. Perhaps a new taste thrill is in store for us.

First, use honey to sweeten canned fruit. Substitute cup for cup up to one-third of the sugar called for. That is, in place of each cup of sugar, you can use half a cup of sugar and half a cup of honey.

Or, if you're very short of sugar, pack fruit without sugar, covering it with its own juice rather than a sugar syrup. You can add sugar from your rations as you use the fruit next winter.

Another suggestion is to replace part of the sugar requirement with light corn syrup. In place of each cup of sugar, use one-third cup of light corn syrup and two-thirds cups of sugar.

Still another tip is to can tree-ripened fruit. Fruit ripened on the tree has more natural sugar.

An old trick that may have been forgotten is to bring out the natural sweetness of fruit by adding salt. Put one-eighth to one-fourth of a level teaspoon of salt into each quart of fruit.

The last suggestion concerns what not to do. You should not use molasses or brown sugar for canning. The flavors of these two sweetening agents overpower the fruit, give it a a dark color, and may cause spoilage

Eastern Stars Pay Tribute To Mrs. Eddy

Honoring Mrs. N. M. Eddy on her 80th birthday the Eastern Star Thursday night, met in the Masonic temple to congratulate her and wish her many happy returns.

Games were played prizes going to Miss Nellie Rice, contract; Mrs. M. G. Updegraff, auction; George Cathro, cribbage; Mrs Ed Koukchek gin rummy and Mrs. Clara Oakes, hearts.

A large birthday cake flanked by tapers in O. E. S. colors and beautifully decorated, centered the table from which refreshments were served. All gathered to watch Mrs. Eddy cut the cake and to sing "Happy Birthday" to her. Mrs. M. G. Updegraff poured, and Mrs. Percy Hagen presided at the piano.

Mrs. Royal Bertram, worthy matron, spoke briefly of the work of Mrs. Eddy as an Eastern Star and of Alpena chapter's debt to her, and presented her with a gift from the chapter. In her usual gracious way Mrs. Eddy responded. Singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Be With You" concluded the evening.

Mrs. Eddy has been very active in Eastern Star work. She has served twice as worthy matron, serving two years in each term of office. She is past grand warden of the Grand Chapter of Michigan. Perhaps what she is best known for is the proficient way she presides at the installation ceremonies each year giving the work in such an effective manner that it impresses all who hear her. Her limitless fund of anecdote and poetry, each one appropriate to the occasion, makes her a gifted speaker, who usually ends with a thought worth remembering.

Large bouquets of flowers decorated the room. The committee in charge of the party included Mrs. Bertram, Mrs. F. C. Dennehy, Mrs. Orville Patrick, Mrs. Stacey, and Mrs. Albert Kirschstein.

Social Events.

On Monday night a birthday party was given at the John Mc Neil residence for Gerald McNeil of Hubbard Lake. Honored also was Mrs. John Scott (Ray Mulvena.) The family present were: John Mc Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mc Neil and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott and Miss Barbara of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jackson of Rogers City, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Oliver-jr and Bob Oliver of Spruce, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Scott of Hubbard Lake.

It was time for another birthday party Thursday when Jane Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Richards, became six years old. So during the afternoon Jane entertained in the garden of her home at 225 State, her guests including her sister Anne, Frannie and Allen Fletcher, Philip, Danny and Jimmy Giennie, Mary Jo Reinke, Kay Masters, Mary Helen Scott and Jackie Gillard. Favors were distributed, games played and ice cream and birthday cake consumed.

A shower was recently given for Miss Marjorie McNeil at the John McNeil residence, west shore, about 35 in attendance. Hostesses were aunts of Mrs. McNeil, Mrs. Eugene Oliver-jr. of Spruce and Mrs. Middie Dagenais of Detroit. Bug was played and dancing enjoyed.

THE OATH TO THE FLAG

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; one Nation indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

* * *

A World Endangered

Th last few days have been, perhaps, the most tremendous that men have seen on this earth since God divided the night from the darkness, and separated the waters, and made man, and gave him light, and placed him in the Garden of Eden, where his tenure was all too short.

For many generations man has risen slowly above the brute. He has had an immense amount of things to learn—many of which, unfortunately, have had to do with warfare among his own kind. An appalling number of secrets have gone into such effort, man against man, so that it has often seemed doubtful whether the human race could survive. And finally has come the revelation of a secret hidden away in the Maker's workshop for untold ages, whereby the basic stuff of which the world was made—the material atom of matter which Nature has developed in countless forms for countless purposes—has been made to give up its secret.

So man at last begins to master atomic forms and adapt them to his own purposes. And what will come of it, no man knows

But the world is filled with solemn warnings. People begin to understand that unless the wise and righteous take this warring world in hand and subdue it to cooperative use, the race itself will be destroyed. And that would be an appalling loss; for so far as we know, this is the only human spot in the whole universe.

* * *

Widening the pavement at the turn from State-av to Chisholm-st ought to mean that the rugged little Chamber of Commerce office will be hit less frequently by atomic bombs on four wheels.

* * *

Don't scorn storms—they're the most powerful things in the world, for their size.

Seeing Through

There is something to this X-ray business, by which army officials can look right through soldiers' packages and see whether their fond families and relatives have been mailing anything they shouldn't. But the spreading of information on this subject may be unwise in the long run. For it is evident that if the government can use a magic device of this kind, so can people in general—if they can get hold of it. So it may be almost no time now when such things can be bought at the corner drug store, or even the ten-cent store. Anyone can emulate the astrologer of fiction who, starting on a journey, "took with him his second-best magic telescope, with which he could see around two corners and through a thin stone wall." And what will that do to private correspondence?

Barbs

President Truman says the new atomic bomb means a rain of ruin for the Japs. The latest way ory is up an' atom!

Uncle Sam tells us there will be plenty of radios for Christmas gifts. We doubt, however, that the music will have charms to soothe the savage appetite.

If there were no old maids in the world, who would use the expression, "We girls"?

The best tips in connection with vacation are those you save by not taking one.

The leaves will soon begin to blush to think how green they've been all summer.

Sin and Death

"The wages of sin is death" — and Japan is about to be paid in full.

She must surrender unconditionally or be blown from the face of the earth.

Russia's declaration of w ar came just three days after the homeland's first taste of the atomic bomb.

Death as the penalty of sin is not always obvious, but apparently it comes out that way in the end. So it may be said, in all reverence, that the principles of both human and divine law seem exemplified in the punishment now being meted out, in present war penalties, to the people who started these recent wars.

The German militarists have already entered a punitive period destined to last for many years, and a similar fate is now being prepared for the Japanese militarists.

In both cases, too, another scriptural verdict is exemplified. "He that taketh up the sword shall perish with the sword." The Japanese militarists, like the Germans, had their way for a time, while the forces of righteousness were assembling their power; and even yet they are able to accomplish much of their evil purpose. Yet slowly but surely they are hunted down and hemmed in by a net of certain punishment, human and divine.

It is impossible to believe that the world and all its wonders, and all the noble and just people in it, were created only to be destroyed by the ignoble and unjust. There have been savage tests of human character in recent years, but human decency and righteousness are winning.

* * *

British Traitors

Treason in high places is indicated by the arrest in London of John Amery, son of the secretary of state for India in the Churchill cabinet, for making pro-Nazi broadcasts in India.

Previously the most distinguished British traitor was Sir Oswald Mosley, son-in-law of Lord Curzon, the brilliant and temperamental Tory foreign minister of 20 years ago. Mosley, who headed the British Fascists, was interned during the war Later he was released because imprisonment seemed to be injuring his health The suspicion was natural that he had sympathizers in high places and the Labor party violently criticized his release

The treason of Amery the son need not discredit his father. Too many people know of well-brought-up sons who bring sorrow to their families.

Atoms and Men

BY JAMES THRASHER

They are saying now that the power of the atomic bomb is so terrible that men will no longer dare to wage war. That would be comforting to believe. But they were saying the same thing about the bomber airplane only seven years ago. They probably made the same prediction when gunpowder was first used in battle

The fact remains that no weapon, however terrible, has ever curbed war-making. And some of the best human minds down through the centuries have devoted much of their talent and energy to creating more elaborate and efficient methods of bringing quick and widespread death to their brothers.

Now the scientists of America, in a fantastic race with the scientists of their enemies, have perfected the most horrifying agent of death the world has ever known In doing so they probed another secret of the universe. They have taken the motivating energy of life upon this planet and, without being able to explain it, have harnessed and used it.

The explosion of the first atomic bomb was no more shattering than the announcement of its existence. The employment of atomic energy surely one of the great scientific achievements of all time, promises incalculable changes in history and human life. Yet is man ready to be trusted with the fruit of his own scientific wisdom?

His record to date is not good. Too often the great scientific leader has been followed by stupid men and vicious men who have cheapened and perverted the gift of his discoveries. It might be better if men would devote their energies for a few years to raising their moral and ethical stature to the point where they could employ their present scientific advancement decently and wisely.

It may be right, by the rules of war, for us to visit this cataclysmic death upon a cruel and guilty enemy who has been offered a way out of a hopeless war and has refused to take it. But what is to be done with this new weapon?

At present the weapon is a secret known only to a few persons in this country and Britain. It is a product of two nations which genuinely live and want peace—a fact for which the world may well thank God. It might be well if they kept that secret and guarded it with desperate vigilance until the rest of the world has shown itself fit to share it.

It is more important that the United Nations Organization prevent future war than that we run our ships and airplanes by atomic energy instead of steam and gasoline. It is more important that the world keep the peace through sincere desire and friendly effort than through fear of another war's destruction. For the effort, though never yet honestly made, is the world's only hope. And the fear has never prevented war, and never will.

Truman Orders WPB to Emphasize Reconversion Plan

WASHINGTON—President Truman today ordered the War Production board to emphasize a five-point program to pave the way for "an orderly transition from war production to civilian production."

The program, laid down for the first time this ago, is "essential to war production that continued to the development of a truly national economy," the chief said in a letter to WPB Chairman J. A. Krug.

The chief executive emphasized that "every opportunity must be given to private business to exercise its ingenuity and foresight in speeding the resumption of civilian production, subject to war needs."

Therefore, the letter added, Krug should "continue the following program" which he already has been carrying out:

"1. A vigorous drive to expand the production of materials which are in short supply, not only because of military demands, but to meet civilian demands as well.

"2. Limitations upon the manufacture of products for which materials cannot yet be made available, so as to avoid excessive pressure on supply which would threaten our stabilization program.

"3. A broad and effective control of inventories so as to avoid speculative hoarding and an unbalanced distribution which would retard total production and endanger our stabilization program.

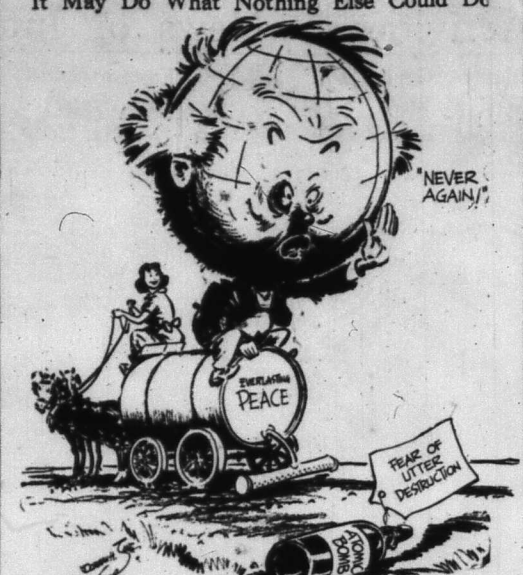
"4. Granting priority assistance to break bottlenecks which may impede the reconversion process.

"5. Allocation of scare materials necessary for the production of low-priced items essential to the continued success of the stabilization program."

NO LETDOWN YET

LONDON—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, supreme commander in Southeast Asia, said he was laying plans against the possibility that Japanese fighting on in their area even after the capitulation of the homeland. The possibility, he said, was based on large stocks of munitions and military supplies the Japanese built up in the occupied areas and the fact that they can get all the food they need from the countryside.

It May Do What Nothing Else Could Do



PETER EDSON

In Washington...

By Peter Edson
NEA Washington Correspondent

A great race between Sen. Bob Taft of Ohio and Sen. Bob Wagner of New York came down the stretch on the last day Congress was in session It ended in a photo finish, or maybe Wagner by a nose. It was a race to develop a postwar housing policy.

Senator Wagner is, of course, the author of nearly all the New Deal legislation on housing. And, as chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, he presides over the early destiny of any new housing legislation that comes up.

TAFT IS A MINORITY member of the Banking and Currency Committee, but he is also chairman of a Senate Postwar Subcommittee on Housing. That has made him top man in the long series of hearings on postwar housing policy. They began in June, 1944, and ran until February, 1945. They enabled Taft to steal the housing spotlight from Wagner. A natural rivalry as well as a traditional political jealousy developed.

Twice during the Taft Committee hearings Wagner rose to announce that this was only an advisory subcommittee.

Taft went ahead, however, and took five months to prepare a report which he filed on the last day the Senate was in session.

HE HAS BEEN THE Republicans' number one critic of many Democratic proposals Knowing these facts, any Washington observer will pick up the Taft report and read it with amazement what the Senator from Ohio proposes for a long-range government housing program:

A single agency with a single head to promote all government housing activities Tax reductions to corporations owning housing developments. Downward revaluation of property for new housing. Development of more rural housing. More assistance to cities in rebuilding slum areas. Disapproval of the rent certificate subsidy for low-income families. Review of the anti-trust laws to eliminate monopoly and racketeering practices.

IT WOULD BE TOO MUCH to expect the Democrats would allow Taft to steal this dream-house right out of their own back yard. While Taft was writing his report, Senator Wagner, in collaboration with Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana representing the Senate Committee on Education and Labor, were busy preparing a new housing bill The two Democratic senators also filed their bill on the last day the Senate was in session, providing the aforementioned photo finish.

The Wagner-Ellender bill gets the play because it is a step further along—a definite proposal for legislation. But it is 65 pages long and it takes a lawyer to figure it out. The Taft report, on the other hand, is only 23 pages long and extremely readable.

Both are recommended reading for anyone interested in public housing and postwar private housing too.

GOOD MORNING

Alpena residents are awakened by ringing telephones between 7 and 8 o'clock . . . and the good tidings they received was ample compensation for early rising arriving News office employes heard the United Press teletype machines signal big news with incessant ringing of the bulletin bell. They rushed to the machines to read the news that Japanese war lords had decided that the Potsdam declaration was a very good bargain compared with the devastation that was being visited upon them At the very moment that the announcement was coming over the wire, Alpena county selective service registrants in Detroit were receiving pre-induction physical examinations. Most of the group will return to Alpena tonight as inductees in the army, navy or marines with the happy realization that the future for them is not as dark as for previous inductees.

THE WHISTLE OF THE departing southbond D & M. train seemed to sound louder and longer than usual for crossings. Possibly the engineer and the fireman in the cab had heard the good news and were trying to arouse the countryside a la Paul Revere.

FEW PEOPLE are on the streets. Ears are glued to radios for the latest reports. Of interest to many in the wake of Japan's offer to capitulate is the picture of the future as regards rationing, priorities, induction schedules, etc.

"THAT SECOND ATOMIC bomb did it," exclaimed photographer LeRoy Gray as he enters his Second-av place of business. "We showed them we had more than one of them," he added. Of course, he probably will admit that the entry of Russia into the war had a little to do with hastening Japan to a decision.

LOOKS LIKE FRED LeRoux lost that bet he made with Nelson Snyder that the war with Japan will end between Dec. 20 and Jan. 1. Months before V-E day May 8, Fred picked May 12 as the date Germany would quit.

THE PHILOSOPHER SAYS—

It's easier to start a mass movement based on agitation than to stop it. Action without brains is dynamite.

HEARD AS THEY PASS

"Those ought to last you two years."

"Oh shucks, they won't last me two months."

"Well, they'll last you two years or you'll go without."

TODAY'S BIBLE THOUGHT

But maybe we do not recognize pearls of spiritual treasure. We are burrowing in the mud for small grains of material things only. Phil 4:19: God shall supply every need of yours according to His riches.

RAMBLINGS

Town all agog this morning over prospects of end of war with Japan. Coming sooner than most expected, but it can't be too soon. *Thursday was a sort of discharge day at General hospital, 17 patients returning to their homes. However, while it was a breathing spell, that's all it was, for others come quickly to take the places. *That's all—only, a large part of Michigan with a lesser part of Ohio seemed to be in Alpena Thursday afternoon. All were vacationists at the various cottages and cabins in this area. Cottage owners tell us that as fast as one party moves out, another moves in.

Observer: "Looks like that flying contest at the Mich-E-Ke-Wis beach today should be a success Just the other day I saw nine or ten kites floating around Second and Oldfield, the kids getting enjoyment as well as practice.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

SOUTH HAVEN—John Richard Janosky, 5-year-old son of Mrs. Evelene Janosky of Kibbie, was crushed to death by the family car when it fell from a jack while his brothers were changing a tire.

Two months ago, the boy's father was crushed to death in an automobile accident.

Farmer's Diary

CONTENDED COW

Often I watch our cow, Mrs. J. Guernsey Bones, in her hillside pasture, and wonder at her serious solemnity. Thirty, in late afternoon, she stands at the bars and waits to be let down to the pond to drink. Then, having thrust her nose into the coolest puffiowing rill, and lingered long at soughing up the water, she seems to show her joy by cropping rapidly at the lush, palatable clover of the lawn. When each physical want is satisfied, she makes leisurely retreat to the coolest shade of a young sassafras hedge and lies down to rest.

No worry for the morrow—no though of the next meal. Lying there, her only concern is to keep the flies and mosquitoes brushed away, for the immediate second. The wind blows cool and fragrant against her moist, panting muzzle leaves rustle rhythmically and a cardinal whistles from a bush; hidden in a nearby tree a warbler oriole sings—a turtle dove calls, far along Honey Creek. None of it is noticed. Even when a young rabbit bobs up into the shadow of her drooping head, she pays no attention.

With eyes half closed she lies contendedly upon the grass and chews her cud. What matter if the cars and trucks that hurry along the gravel road below send nasty dust in rolling clouds her way; what matter if children shout and quarrel on the lawn below, what matter if some noisy transport planes come skimming over the treetops at high speed. These create no disturbance, no desire, within her placid brain.

Only when the young boys release her yearling calf from the barn to drink, she sniffs the air and with ears thrown forward watches every motion—awake to the slightest crackle of a twig, the quintest bovine sound.

Or if the neighbor's bull lows shrilly from his pasture in the south where his herd of a dozen or more cows graze near the stream—if he comes to the wires and bawls out vigorously again, making his shaggy head toward the imperturbable Mrs. Bones in masculine appeal until the air is vibrant and the wooded hills return the call—then quickly our old cow gets up from her grassy bed, nor ever takes time for her usual yawn and stretch, but resignedly hurries, along the three strands of wire that bound her field and arrives at the bars in a whirl of breathless dust, bellering out impatiently with her whole being tense and wide awake, an answering love call that makes the echoes tingle.

Tobin, Received on Waiver from Braves, Is Second Pitcher Acquired by Tigers in Two Days

By Carl Lundquist
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — Jim Tobin brought his tantalizing "crawl ball" to the Detroit Tigers today to an effort to insure them the American league pennant.

Tobin, whose slow-stuff made him one of the most bewildering pitchers in the National league, was waived out surprisingly yesterday by the Boston Braves who seemed to have no further use for him.

Although the big right-hander won 14 games last year, he had failed to round into top form this season and had won only nine while losing 14. However, a change of uniform has netted a number of other players this year and the Tigers gambled $7,500 that it would help him.

TOBIN WAS THE second pitcher they had acquired in as many days. They picked up Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout, Detroit southpaws, from the rival St. Louis Browns, two days before.

It was "welcome back" for manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees who was greeted with a 3 to 2 victory over the Indians at Cleveland after he returned from a two-week illness. He saw one of his pre-season pitchers, Charley (Red) Ruffing, chalk up his third victory since leaving the army.

Washington went all after two Chicago pitchers for 14 hits and beat the White Sox, 7 to 2. Mickey Haefner won his 11th game.

Al Benton, hollowgrounds of the Browns, outdueled Bobo Newsom of the Athletics at St. Louis, winning, 1 to 0, with a three-hitter. It was Hollingsworth's sixth win and Newsom's 18th defeat. Newsom, six pitcher, 11 games this season when the A's gave him two runs or less.

THE THIRD PLACE Dodgers gained ground on the National with a twin win over the Reds at Brooklyn, 9 to 2 and 4 to 2. Art Herring, backed up by 10 timely hits, won his creative game in the opener. Rookie Ralph Branca outpitched Howard Fox in the 12-9 inning afterpiece in which he struck out 11 men, allowing just six hits.

An ex-teammate closed down the hot Cubs at Boston when Red Ball Lee pitched the Braves to a 7 to 3 victory, beating Paul Derringer.

The Cardinals moved within five and a half games of the lead with a 5 to 3 victory over the Giants at New York.

Ken Gables, Pirate rookie, won his seventh game against one defeat at Philadelphia, beating the Phils 3 to 1, giving up five hits.

YESTERDAY'S STAR — Rudy York of the Tigers, whose two homers and a single drove in four runs in an 11 to 5 victory over the Red Sox.

York Homers, Trout Effective; Tigers Blast Boston 11-5

By Jack DasChanes
United Press Staff Correspondent

DETROIT—They were kicking up their heels with joy in the Tiger camp today and the reason was bountiful.

The pace-setting Bengals have broken the jinx by which apparently they were mesmerized into futility and inaction before the Boston Red Sox for the greater part of the season—Dizzy Trout has resumed his old effectiveness, Rudy York has rediscovered the formula for blasting out home runs—and Hank Greenberg has again become the threat which seems to make strong pitchers shudder when he stepped into the batter's box.

With these four elements working on their side, the Tigers went out yesterday and blasted out an 11 to 5 victory over the Red Sox.

DIZ GAVE UP 10 hits, but he was much more effective than this would indicate. He walked seven Bostonians and walked only three.

Meanwhile, York blasted out two home runs, in addition to collecting a single in three four runs, while Greenberg connected for a pair of healthy doubles and a single, running his total for two consecutive games to four two-baggers and four singles.

Greenberg's first double off O'Neil, who was cleared to the showers in the third and replaced by Clem Hausmann, gave Trout a two-run lead in the first inning. However, when he had hit by a pitched ball and Jimmy Outlaw, who had walked, crossed the plate on the Greenberg effort.

Boston tied the score in the second on walk, two scratch hits and an error by Trout, and stepped into a very temporary lead in the second on Eddie Lake's double a sacrifice and a flyball.

But from then on Detroit took control of the situation, matching back with four runs of their own in the last half of the third to sew up the ball game.

In THIS FRAME, Greenberg's second double and York's first homer accounted for two runs, and a walk to Mayo, a double by Bob Swift and a single by Trout chalked up two more.

In the following inning, Hausmann, who had taken over the pitching chores, gave up four more runs. A single by Benton and an error put two men on base, and a double steal contrived to advance them to second and third, after which they scored on Roy Cullenbine's fly to right. York then smashed out his second homer into the second deck, and the count stood 10 to 3. In the sixth, Greenberg again started things off with a single. He was replaced by Hubby Walker, who scored after York and Maier had singled.

Leon Culberson smashed out a home run for the Red Sox in the eighth, and Boston collected its fifth run in the ninth on two hits.

Hunt Sharptailed Grouse Oct. 1-20

LANSING—Sharptailed grouse have found a happy hunting ground on Drummond Island.

Introduced on the island in upper Lake Huron early in 1941 by Conservation department game men, the sharptails evidently have increased to the limit of the island's capacity to maintain them in winter.

Ruffed grouse that were introduced early last year apparently have done less well.

Sharptails may be hunted on the island from Oct. 1 to 20 inclusive; the season on ruffed grouse is closed by commission order.

Thursday on a charge of assault.

John Christian, an honorably discharged veteran, brought the charge against Durocher and Moore, contending that they hit him with blackjacks after a game at Brooklyn, June 9, breaking his nose and causing other injuries.

The Dodger players previously had claimed that Christian had been heckling them on the night of the game.

Durocher, Officer Are Ordered Held On Assault Charge

NEW YORK — Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Officer Frank Moore, a special officer in Durocher's employ, were ordered held for the grand jury by magistrate Aimee C. Burpbee.

The stage was set today for finals matches next Wednesday at the Lions club community picnic in the men's doubles and women's singles of the city tennis tournament. Only two more matches remain to be played in men's singles competition to reduce the field to two finalists.

Skiba, singles champion last year, advanced to the semi-finals in the singles by winning over Ted Michaud, 6-1, 6-0. Skiba will meet Ed Whedon and the survivor will be pitted in the finals next Wednesday against the winner of the Jack Hardin-Richard Sommerfeld semi-finals match.

Finalists in the women's singles, Lois Hampton and Marie Wisniewski will vie for the title won a year ago by Mrs. Walter Nowak.

Godfrey Hits Home Run With Bases Loaded

Producing five runs in the first inning, four of which were driven in on a home run by Gerald Godfrey with the bases loaded, enabled the American Legion softball team to hand the vaunted Fraser squad its first defeat in four starts in the second half race of the City league, winning a 5-3 score.

Godfrey's home run came after Fraser scored two runs in its half of the first. Norm Collins opened the Legion rally with a single. Manager John "Biff" Stepaniak reached first on an error and Eugene Szymanski, home on furlough walked, filling the bases.

LOUIS SOBECK hit a single scoring Collins and keeping the bases loaded. Godfrey then slashed a hit out into left field and as Leider Jimmy O'Neil attempted to recover the ball the latter bounced over his head giving Godfrey an opportunity to score.

The Legionmen were held scoreless after that but their lead was sufficient to give them the victory.

Fraser scored its two runs in the opening frame on three walks by Legion hurler Keith Stevenson and a single by Gerald Peterson. Stevenson displayed good control after that, walking but two and fanning three.

FRASER SCORED its final run in the third inning when first baseman Stan Kaiser, who was behind the plate in the absence of Norm McDonnell, clipped out a homer.

It was a hopeful victory for the Legion team, who were handed a 13-2 beating by CYO earlier this week.

The loss for Fraser knocked them from a first place tie with CYO into second place while the victory for the Legion raised them from fourth place to a third place tie with Besser.

In action tonight CYO will attempt to retain its lofty position when they meet DeMolay.

Oscoda Battles Vaughn Sunday

The Vaughn-Ragadale baseball team will seek its fourth win of the season in as many starts when they meet an improved Oscoda army air base nine at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Mertz Square.

It will mark the last game of the season between the squads who had two previous meetings. Vaughn easily won the first contest 11-1 but when a new detachment of servicemen arrived at the base, the Alpena team was lucky to edge out a 4-2 victory.

IT WILL ALSO mark the end of competition in Northern Michigan for a large number of the Oscoda players who cannot enjoy their strength long. Some of the soldiers are scheduled to leave next week and thus have requested one last contest in Alpena—a contest they will be striving to win to make their going away a satisfied one.

Besides the two wins over Oscoda, Vaughn has one triumph over Fraser.

Fraser will not be in action this week. Team members leave tonight for Detroit where they will witness the Detroit-Boston Saturday and the Detroit-New York doubleheader Sunday.

G. I. Sports Center In France Rarely Equalled In U. S.

By Jack Cuddy
United Press Staff Correspondent

RHEIMS, France—This French champagne city where the German surrender was signed is the "most beautiful fashole in Europe for G. I. Joes."

Within the short space of three months, the army has provided sports and recreation facilities for enlisted men rarely equalled in American cities of this size. Since most of these facilities are strictly for the "dog-faces," the much-overlooked officers have to restrict their recreational activities largely to studying the production of champagne at eight different plants.

THE BRASS HATS squiring five American sports writers through Europe, insisted that the scribes should survey the enlisted men's recreational project. The sports writers protested in vain that they had officers' ranks and should concentrate their activities on behalf of the champagne.

The disagreement resulted in a compromise whereby the entire party broke up and made separate visits to the G. I. "Coney Islands" set up in various parts of the city. The attractions include swimming pools, dancing pavilions, picnic grounds, and various other "side shows."

For the athletically inclined there is a quarter mile running track and a circular red brick boxing center, "Le Cirque" where fights are held every Friday night. The boxing pavilion seats about 3,000 and service men have to take turns to decide which shall get to go.

THE FACILITIES are a little more commodious at the huge concrete "Stade Velodrome" where as many as 90,000 can watch motorcycle races, track meets and football games.

The writers decided after several visits that they outspokenly envied the "G. I.'s." Nevertheless they emphasized their appreciation of the chance to learn about the making of champagne in 11 mile-long caverns more than 100 feet below the earth's surface.

There more than eight million bottles of the "old bubbly" are undergoing the five year aging process despite Pommery's loss of more than five million bottles to the German army of occupation.

No wonder an impressed Oscoda army air base nine at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Mertz Square.
